

Medizin und Philosophie / Medicine and Philosophy (MPH)

Beiträge aus der Forschung / Research Contributions

Edited by Matthias Bormuth, Giovanni Maio and Urban Wiesing

Since antiquity, medicine and philosophy have had a fruitful cooperation and have illuminated each other – a relationship which has become especially significant once again in our time. The ›Medizin und Philosophie‹ (Medicine and Philosophy) series publishes works which deal with current issues and examine historical developments on this topic.

All volumes published so far can be found on the publisher's homepage at <https://www.frommann-holzboog.de/reihen/59?lang=en-gb>

- The languages of publication are German and English. All contributions will be professionally proofread and corrected in both languages.
- All volumes of this edition will be published as printed book and e-book.
- An Open Access Publication is also possible for a fee.

We are looking forward to your manuscripts – please e-mail them to the editors or to the publisher:
